

UNIVERSITÀ DEGLI STUDI DI MILANO

SCUOLA DI DOTTORATO IN FISICA
ASTROFISICA E FISICA APPLICATA

Physics Colloquia 2010/2011

The scientific motivations of the Large Hadron Collider

The Large Hadron Collider (LHC), now operating at CERN, is one of the most ambitious scientific project ever achieved.
In this seminar I will present the physics goals of the project, addressing the main questions for which experiments at the LHC are expected to provide answers.

APR
12.04.2011

Gian Francesco Giudice

CERN, Ginevra, Svizzera

The scientific motivations of the Large Hadron Collider

Gli incontri si terranno alle ore 15:00
nell'aula A del DIPARTIMENTO DI FISICA
via Celoria 16 | 20133 MILANO | Tel. +39 02 50317740
<http://phd.fisica.unimi.it> | phd@fisica.unimi.it